A Loving church is…

A few years ago, a survey was conducted with several hundred churches on the subject of love and church growth. One of the questions asked of the members was, "Please define a 'loving church' and/or list some qualities of one." Here are some of the comments.

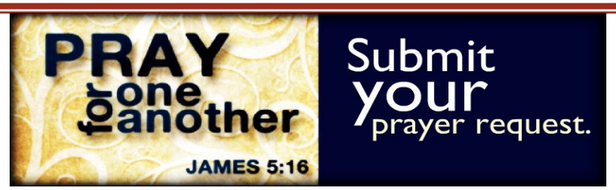

A Loving church is…

- A "home" where one's fears, joys, yearnings, and aspirations can be shared without fear of condemnation and rejection.
- A place to find strength for daily battles, and a place to find a supportive community for that struggle.
- A place for friends who can be trusted, depended upon, enjoyed, and who share the same goals.
- Where God's love is experienced in a concrete way through His people.
- Where imperfections are accepted… where people discover their greatest potential… where they feel loved.
- Where people are open and honest with each other without the fear of being judged.
- Where members grow as individual differences are accepted, and where distinctions of personal rights, possessions, thoughts, emotions, actions are submerged in commitment to each other and the Kingdom of God.
- Unconditional in its acceptance of persons… and provides a place where there is opportunity for Christian service and ministry.
- Where people laugh with others, not at others; cry with others, not because of others; forgive others, and are forgiven by others; love others, and are loved by others.

1 John 3:2-3 (NKJV) "Beloved, now we are children of God; and it has not yet been revealed what we shall be, but we know that when He is revealed, we shall be like Him, for we shall see Him as He is. [3] And everyone who has this hope in Him purifies himself, just as He is pure."

It is a wonderful blessing to have love for one another in the church! Our love comes from God. May we always seek to be like Him.
